

Wayne County School-Justice Partnership

Resource Guide

Introduction

The Wayne County School-Justice Partnership Committee (SJP) developed this Resource Guide. The purpose of the guide is to provide information about program resources and services available to students, families, schools, and the communities we serve in Wayne County.

What is the Wayne County School Justice Partnership (Wayne County SJP)?

The Wayne County SJP consists of professionals from the courts, the schools, law enforcement and social service agencies committed to providing effective resources to students who are at the highest risk of being excluded from school via suspension or expulsion and entering the “school-to-prison pipeline.”

Our Vision:

The Wayne County School-Justice Partnership exists to keep students in Wayne County in school and out of the court system.

Guiding Principles:

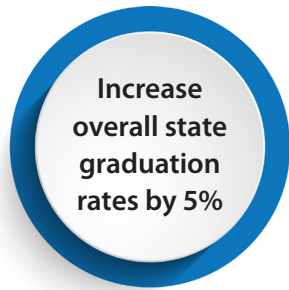

- I. Schools that foster positive school climates can help to engage all students in learning by preventing problem behaviors and intervening effectively to support struggling and at risk-students.

- II. Schools that have discipline policies or codes of conduct with clear, appropriate, applied expectations and consequences will help students improve behavior, increase engagement, and boost achievement.
- III. Schools that build staff capacity and continuously evaluate their own discipline policies and practices are more likely to ensure fairness, equity, and promote achievement for all students.

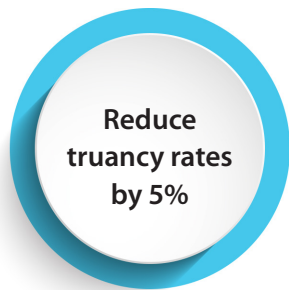

Working Objectives:

1. Convene a countywide work group that represents education, the court system, community mental health, child welfare, and other appropriate agencies. (On-going)
2. Collect and review data to determine the extent of the issues throughout the county. Collaborate with districts and public-school academies to address the issues of suspension, expulsion and truancy.
3. Develop focused educational and professional development activities aimed at supporting our most at-risk youth.
4. Maintain an on-line collection of articles, presentations and other resources that are applicable for this work. The work of the Wayne County SJP supports the strategies of the Michigan School-Justice Partnership:

Strategic Objectives:

Tactical Objectives:

The information in this resource guide provides information about services and programs designed to help students stay in school and out of the court system. Programs and services provide prevention services, effective interventions, and/or education and training.
